The Untethered Relationship

Evening Seminar

There are no adventures or challenges like the ones you experience in your important relationships. There are more unexpected disruptions, surprises, twists, turns, and — sometimes — dead ends, than in any other human endeavour. Amidst all the emotional ups and downs, successes and failures, we often forget to ask ourselves a key question: “What is the actual purpose of this relationship?”

The evening seminar will explore

- The three-legged race to agreement
- The key to real freedom
- Effective Communication without the words
- Embracing True — Unconditional — Happiness
- The difference between adulthood and Emotional Adulthood
- The dynamic principles of an Untethered Relationship
